

Extremely Profitable, Healthy Meal Prep and Delivery Business

This business is ready for an energetic entrepreneur that has a passion for healthy food and is ready to hit the ground running. Meal prep and delivery is a growing industry and is less wasteful than traditional food service business which is great for the local environment. All this and extremely profitable which is great for the business owner, giving you the ability to reinvest and grow or make an impact in the local community through philanthropic endeavors.

The menu changes each week to keep it fresh and orders are placed through a software platform so that purchasing and fulfillment can be done efficiently with minimal waste.

Business is located in close proximity to needed resources so supply chain disruptions have not been an issue. Business has seen consistent growth and now the owner is looking to retire once someone is found to take the reins and run with it.
